

Measure Up

Who has measured the waters by hand and knows the breadth of all the heavens Lord no one but You Who else numbers the stars creates the thunder can lift the mountains as if feathers only You

I'm a tiny drop of the calmest rain a speck of dust for the truth remains You are God
I am nothing Lord You are everything
I can't compare but still You love me

That's why I'll give it up for You hold it down for You live my life for You all to please You
I will die trying to measure up
I know I'll come short of your glory Lord I give my all and then some more Lord
I will die trying to measure up

You are sovereign the answer to all problems
You're the Great I AM The Holy Lamb
No one's like You
You have all power all nations have to bow there is no ruler or high tower that stands up to You

I'm a blade of grass in the widest field a flower found on the smallest hill and You You alone are God
I am nothing Lord You are everything
I can't compare but still You love me

Chorus

Copyright 2001 Destiny Metro Publishing (ASCAP/ Admin. ICG Nashville TN)